CEC EXPANDS OPERATIONS TO INCLUDE LAKE HAVASU CITY, ARIZONA

LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz., November 27, 2017 — Civil & Environmental Consultants, Inc. (CEC) has expanded its regional capabilities in the Southwest with the opening of a Lake Havasu City office in Arizona. The expansion follows the cooperative transition of the Lake Havasu City office of Slater Hanifan Group over to CEC.

Kevin Murphy, P.E., leads the new office and serves as a senior principal within CEC's Civil Engineering practice. Murphy will continue to provide consulting services to his existing clients throughout Arizona while expanding CEC's presence in communities along the Colorado River and in various municipalities in the greater Phoenix metropolitan area. Murphy is joined by additional staff from the Lake Havasu City office of Slater Hanifan Group as part of the transition to CEC.

"The Colorado River corridor is a growing part of the state of Arizona, and CEC's public sector focus on this area is what attracted me to the company," Murphy said.

Murphy has 30 years of experience with public works projects, including the development and construction of maintenance facilities, water and wastewater treatment plants, sewer and water system expansions, and airport expansions. He also is experienced with governmental affairs and economic development activities.

Prior to joining CEC, Murphy served as director of operations responsible for projects in support of public works throughout the state of Arizona. He also held the director of public works position with Lake Havasu City for 11 years. During his tenure at Lake Havasu City, he led the effort to convert a large portion of the community from septic to sewer, ultimately abandoning more than 22,000 septic systems.

For more information about CEC's services in the new region, contact Kevin Murphy, P.E., at 928-200-8067 (mobile) or kmurphy@cecinc.com. CEC's Lake Havasu City office is located at 60 Acoma Blvd. South, Suite C104, Lake Havasu City, AZ 86403. Phone numbers for the office are as follows: 928-733-6441 (local); 833-815-9640 (toll-free).
